Hopefully the day is sooner than expected that we are accomplishing all kinds of great lawsuits in your courtroom in particular. How nice to even continue floating the idea that everyone in my elongated circumstances finds it in themselves to go to Buffalo Olive Garden and talk like normal people.

Until then, you need updates from my end of things in my words,

April 1st a court hearing took place without me present but I was very happy with the results. The 2nd Circuit of US Appeals probably has April 1st court notes on file. April 28th was supposed to be the appeal of the detention hearing. It never happened and I do not know why. May 5th is still on the court schedule in Rochester. The goal for May 5th court hearing was agreed upon by Sean Eldridge himself as early as February 23rd, otherwise my mother would not have been told about it from Victoria Bahl. Do help keep up on these details.

We are currently asking if Katie [REDACTED] named defendant in your courtroom in particular, is being paid by Sean Eldridge to type up all his paperwork. This is possible because he was allowing Katie to listen to my phone calls here at Monroe County while the lawsuit got in motion in your courtroom. Would Sean Eldridge like to be a codefendant with Katie, Andrew Clark and perhaps even Monroe County Sheriff's Office? Do ask Sean his thoughts. He remembers April 1st and January 30th.
